Washington letter

By BETTY BEALE

No letup due in capital's carnival

Outgoing CIA director Dick Helms and his wife Cynthia were dancing up a storm. He won't be taking over his ambassadorial post until next spring, but the Shah must be delighted that he is coming. He and Dick have been friends for years and the "agreement" came back with lightning speed. How many countries would allow our former CIA chief to take over the U.S. Embassy?
